Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicant's claimed invention distinguishes over the prior art for the following reasons. The prior art does not disclose or suggest a mobile communication terminal comprising all the specific elements with the specific combination including a microprocessor performs a CPU function and a DSP function, wherein the microprocessor transfers a data from an internal memory to registers per one cycle when the microprocessor performs the CPU function, wherein the microprocessor can transfer two data from the memory to the registers per one cycle when the microprocessor performs the DSP function, and wherein the microprocessor can transfer two data from a first internal memory and a second internal memory in parallel when the microprocessor performs the DSP function as set forth in claims. The cited references at most, contain only one or the other, but not all the limitations claimed. There would also be no reason to make any of the possible combinations.

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
